DIRECTOR'S NOTE

There are few stories as imaginative and chaotic as Alice in Wonderland. Though we all know how the classic Lewis Carroll story goes, this production has been an incredible opportunity for the students to find their own take on their roles. Once a character has been portrayed in so many different ways, it really opens the door for these young actors to make their own bold and artistic choices when bringing these characters to life. I am beyond honored that I have been able to watch each and every one of them grow and flourish this semester.

Disney's Alice in Wonderland Jr. depicts a journey of self discovery, inviting you to embrace curiosity, courage, and who you truly are. Alice's journey through Wonderland is not just her navigating quirky characters and peculiar situations—it follows her experience finding her voice and realizing her strength. In a lot of ways, this reflects the lived experience of many of the students here. Theater is an incredible platform for children to explore creativity, build confidence, and find who they want to be. Getting to be a part of my students' journey to become their most authentic self is one of the main reasons why I love my job so much. Teaching your kiddos is truly a dream come true for me.

All that aside, this show has not been a walk in the park! This script is extremely demanding and has taken so much work and dedication from these amazing young actors. I am blown away by how each one of them has brought these moments to life with energy and enthusiasm in ways I would have never expected. Teachers can only do so much, so at the end of the day, the actors are the ones making this show shine.

This production reminds us of the value of seeing the world through the eyes of a child, where the impossible feels possible, and every twist and turn in life is not a setback, but an opportunity for adventure. It's a reminder to embrace the unexpected, to question the status quo, and to always keep a little wonder in our lives.

I would also like to thank you, the parents and loved ones of my students who helped make this production possible. None of this could have come together without the love and support you show your kiddos in pursuing the arts. Thank you all so much for joining me this semester, and I hope that I will get the chance to work with each of you again. I adore every single one of these talented young actors and am so immensely grateful that they (and you!) have allowed me to lead them through this production. This show will have you leaving with a smile on your face, a song in your heart, and perhaps a touch of Wonderland magic in your day.

Now let your imagination run wild, and enjoy the whirlwind of Disney's Alice in Wonderland Jr.!
